The Rotary Club of Bey St. Louis had their weekly luncheon at the Hotel Reed Wednesday. Mr. Joseph Scharff had charge of the program and the gues speaker was Miss Eleanora Gralow Librarian with the Mississippi Library Commission. Miss Gralow's talk was based on libraries and what they can do

She said that libraries are the best means of education; people come to libraries for reference books on whatever subject they are interested in and the library should be able to supply any reference book requested. She said when a man builds a new store, he always makes arrangements for a great big neon sign, to let the people know where he is located; but you never see a big electric sign on a library. She said that any community that can pay $100.00 of taxpayers money can secure the service of the book mobile; that is the way that the Mississippi Library Commission spends its money. Bay St.
Louis has such a service; the book mobile makes two or three trips a year, bringing new books and taking the ones left on the previous trip.

Federal Aid Construction Program Outlined

Washington-Louisiana has a $48,378 000 federal aid highway program under way; Mississippi's involves $27,083,000. This is shown in a report by the bureau of public roads. Of Louisiana's total program, including roads under construction, in the plan ing stage and those expected to reach the planning stage shortly, the federal share is roughly half, or $23,692,000. The federal contribution toward Misssippi's program is $13,784,000. The report shows that Louisiana had $19,438,000 in federal aid highways under construction, $11,159,000 in the plan approved stage and $17,781,000 in the preliminary planning stage. Mississippi has an $18,763,000 prog-

SELECTION OF NEW CARDINALS LOOMS

Vatican City-There is a general belief that Pope Pius XII may call a consistory within the next two months, perhaps around Christmas, to name new Cardinals of the Roman Catholic church Death has cut the membership of the college of cardinals from its full strento grains and pastures, Williford said, gth of 70 to 49 and the average age of those remaining is above 70.

If such a consistory is calledthere is no official news that it will be, ceremonies at which red hats would be handed to the new princes of the church probably would be held in the spring. The last such ceremonies were held in February, 1946, when 32 cardinals were created. Vatican sources commented that is and when new cardinals are named, Arch bishop John D'Alton of Armagh, Ireland, will be among them . The archdiocese of Armagh is one whose head

PLANTS NOT LOST, WHITE DECLARES

Aluminum Facility Needs Exist in State, Claim

Jackson, Miss.,-Mississippi has not lost any aluminum plants because of lack of or cost of natural gas supplies, Gov. Nominee Hugh White declared here.

White, who returned last week end from Washington, said that he had "spoken to the man who locates aluminum plants, and I can tell you that Mississippi has not lost any aluminum plants because of that (referring to cost and availability of natural gas.)" He said that he believes the state stands to get one of two plants being proposed in the South. "We have ample gas reserves," he asserted. Earlier this year, a group of

Gulf coast officials charged that Mississippi had lost the $75 million Kaiser aluminum plant to New Orleans because an inadequate supply of gas was being kept in the state and that costs of gas were lower in competitive states. (From the Oct. 30th-issue of the New Orleans Times-Pica-

NOVEMBER 22nd SET AS THANKSGIVING DAY

Washington-Formally proclaiming November 22 as Thanksgiving Day, President Truman called on his fellow Americans on that day to "seek divine aid in the quest for peace.

"Our heartts impel us, once again in this autumnal season, to turn in humble gratitude to the giver of our bounties," Mr. Truman, said.

"We are profoundly grateful for the blessings bestowed upon us; the preservation of our freedom, so dearly bought and so highly prized; our opportunities for human welfare and happiness, so limitless in their scope, our material prosperity, so far surpassing that of earier years; and our private spiritual blessings, so deeply cherished by all. For hese we offer fervent thanks to God." Congress in 1941 specified that Thanksgiving Day fall annually on the fourth Thursday of November.

The affection was reciprocated in full measure. Young Sir Randolph Churfather's disapproval of Jennie, struck a deal in which he consented to run for Parliament on condition that he be permitted to marry the lovely American girl. It is said that the elder Churchill acquiesced reluctantly but that against his own desires he finally succumbed to the charm of his son's young wife.

Still, it was only by the greatest difficulty in passing his examinations that he was permitted entrance into the famous Sandhurst. At twelve years of age Winston Chur chill made a remark that he would some day be a soldier and then take a shot at politics. Unknown to anyone he consulted an eminent specialist to see if an impediment in his speech could be corrected, explaining that he expected to be Minister some day and that he did not want to be embarrassed whenever he used a word beginning with the letter S. The specialist is said to have told him gravely (but with a twinkle in his eye) to go home and eventually the condition would right itself. The boy made a concerted effort from then on to cure his own ailment and event-

It is interesting to note that after entering Sandhurst Winston Churchill comitted a complete "about-face". He began to seriously apply himself to such subjects as military administration and topography, in tactics and formations and fortifications. When he completed his time at Sandhurst, he graduated with honors and he stood seventh in his averages in a class of one hundred and fifty. He was then commissioned to serve in the Fourth Hussars.

When Lord Randolph Churchill pased away in 1895 Winston, with a heavy heart, resolved to try to convince his country one day that his father had been a great man, greatly misunderstood and victimized by political enemies.

The following years were busy, colorful, interesting ones for Winston Churchill, who many times (as had his discouragement and the lack of interest in his almost clairvoyant predictions and assertions concerning the welfare of his beloved country.

John Allen writes of Churchill:-"On that day when he offered his people nothing but blood, sweat, toil and tears" he was to know in the midst of his anguish the supreme joy a leader must feel vhen he is no longer a voice crying in the wilderness, but the voice of a people speaking from the courageous depths of a great country's heart." (This latter was written after the failure of Neville Chamberlain when Churchill was summoned back as Lord of the Admiralty once more.)

In a speech delivered in 1946 Churchill made this statement, from Stettin in the Baltic to Trieste in the Adriatic, an "Iron Curtain" has descended across the continent." He was making an attempt at warning against Soviet Russia's imperialism. The speech has proved to be uncannily correct.

Doing what doesn't come naturally

Like most of Mississippi's producing oil wells many of Culf's 322 wells are pumpers. On the surface works a suction pump like that used on many water wells. At the other end of the pipe a mile or more down, is one of Mississippi's great natural resources.

But oil doesn't just come naturally. Gulf has to so get it. And it's a mile-long trip straight down into the earth through diamond-hard rock, treacherous sand, and tremendous heat and pressure. A trin that would tire the patience of a saint and exhaust the luck of the Irish!

Gulf's bill of materials for an average well is as long as your arm. It includes Mississippi timber and clays, and the work of Mississippi men and women in the field and office. The total runs anvwhere from $50,000 to $200,000—cash on the barrel head, whether you get a producer or a dry hole

But topping the list of what it takes to drill an oil well is Gulf's faith and confidence in Mississippi and its people. You start with that, or you never start at all. That faith and confidence in Mississippi's future as a great oil and gas producing state first brought Gulf to Mississippi. It has led Gulf to drill 485 wells-135 of them dry holes.

Today, Gulf carries that faith and confidence for ward in the development of one of Mississippi's great natural resources for a better, more pros perous life for all.
